JOOMI CHUNG : IMAGE SPACE/MEMORY SPACE

NOVEMBER 22, 2019 — FEBRUARY 2, 2020

Joomi Chung (Oxford, OH) unfolds an abstract landscape-map in an immersive installation combining objective representation and subjective experiences of places and moments. Her work explores the idea of memory-space from multiple angles: as long scrolls of multi-referential visual narratives, as sedimentation of forgotten memories, and as fragments of memories suspended in an in-between zone of memory. Her multifaceted work opens up an image-space to be contemplated as a visual field and, at the same time, accessed as a physical site.
